

DONNA KARLIN, CEC

EXECUTIVE LEADERSHIP COACH, SPEAKER & AUTHOR,

Discover why Donna's innovative work has been featured in The New York Times business section, the Globe and Mail, The National Post (Financial Post), The Boston Globe and Personal Success Magazine.

Would you like a keynoter who thrills your audience with inspiring, provocative, edgy ideas they can use immediately in the real-world?

Discover why organizations, businesses, associations and the technology sector selects Donna Karlin to keynote their conferences and meetings and provide coaching and training for their staff.

Donna's innovative work style has been featured in The New York Times business section, the Globe and Mail, The National Post (Financial Post), The Boston Globe and Personal Success Magazine.

CONTACT US TO BOOK DONNA KARLIN AS A KEYNOTER ON:

- Finding the Creative Genius Within You
- Leading Virtual Teams
- The Paradox of Change
- Leading Change: Innovation and Engagement
- Are you the Leader of the Future or the Past?
- Dare to Imagine
- The Art of Thrival: Prospering in a Time of Uncertainty and Change
- Connecting Collaborating and Conducting: Leading Teams in an Increasingly Virtual Work Environment
- Networks within Networks: It's All About Relationships
- The Power of Language
- Women in Leadership: On the Rise
- Paying Attention to your Level of Impact

Donna Karlin is known as 'The Shadow Coach'. She is internationally recognized as a pioneer in the field of leadership coaching to global political, government, corporate and business leaders, technologists, medical professionals and creative designers. She has spent close to 30 years helping leaders figure out how to bridge the gap between where they are and where they want to be. Her work has been written up in Fast Company magazine, The National Post (Financial Post), The Globe and Mail, The New York Times Business Section, The Boston Globe, and Personal Success magazine. She is a columnist, avid blogger to readers from 143 countries, guest lectures and does keynotes in many parts of the world.